Big 4 Diplomats Attempt To Ease East-West Tension

By CARL HARTMAN
PARIS — (AP) — Deputies of the Big Four foreign ministers face still another discussion today (at 10 a. m. EST) and how to negotiate an independence treaty for Austria as a step toward easing east-west tension.

The deputies meet for the fourth time in their current series of talks designed to draw up a list of points for their ministers to discuss at the proposed Big Four meeting. Unless they agree on a list and how to phrase it, the ministers won't get together at all.

Eager To Finish Job
Britain, France and the United States are eager to get the Austrian treaty over and done with. So is Austrian foreign minister Karl Gruber, who is here to watch from the sidelines.

But this time the Russians left it off their proposed list of topics. They did bring it up yesterday, but they recalled an old stalemate: Russia's insistence—and the Western Powers' denial—that to talk about Austria they also would have to talk about the little territory of Trieste, on the Adriatic sea.

The Russians say the Western Powers have violated their treaty with Italy by turning Trieste into a military base. How could the Russians know, demanded Russia's Deputy Andrei Gromyko, that Austria wouldn't turn into a second Trieste?

The Western reply to this—as a French spokesman termed it—curious argument came as another question: If the Russians will not trust the west to keep the Austrian treaty, why are they so eager for a German treaty? Wouldn't the Western Powers break that too?

Trieste Just Pretext

U. S. Deputy Philip C. Jessup told Gromyko Trieste is not a military base at all. The Russian argument that it is, he contended, just serves as a pretext to delay the treaty Austria has been awaiting since the war. So far as the U. S. is concerned, the foreign ministers can talk about Trieste, but only as an entirely separate matter from Austria.

At that point Gromyko said it was getting late and the meeting ought to end for the day. Debate on the matter will go on this afternoon. These deputies and others already have discussed a treaty for Austria more than 250 times.

But, the western delegates said yesterday, the western delegates said yesterday, they were glad to see the Russians are still ready to talk about it all and since so much work has been done already, maybe it would be the easiest subject to finish off.

Pictures On Ballot

Since 1938, the Navajos had voted under a system where each candidate was represented by a colored card. The cards were piled in the polling booths and the voters picked the color representing their choice. It was not very secret.

In the voting last Monday and Tuesday, formal ballots were used for the first time.

They differed from the white man's ballot in that they bore the pictures of the candidates. Indians who could not read or write were thus able to mark their X under the picture of their choice.

WASHINGTON, — (P)—General MacArthur's pronouncement that the Korean war is headed for a "stalemate" revived talk here of an eventual negotiated settlement.

Another visitor soon to join the White House party is Donald S. Dawson, Mr. Truman's administrative assistant on appointments. Dawson, under fire by a Senate subcommittee investigating alleged influence on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the making of loans, has already drawn expressions of support from the president at a news conference in Washington.

The president's press secretary, Joseph Short, in an emphatic "no comment" yesterday, ignored a demand by Republican Senator Knowland of California that the president return to Washington immediately to clean house.

The president likewise steered clear of a discussion of organized labor's walkout on the defense mobilization setup.

Lansing Senate Digs Up Revenue

Double-Barreled Bill Sticks New Taxes

LANSING — (P)—The Michigan senate today got its teeth into a double-barreled bill. It would sock $2,000,000 more in taxes on small loan and finance companies and take back at least $3,000,000 in intangible taxes now going to local governments.

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) pushed his plan to the amount of intangible taxes returned to cities, villages and townships at $8,000,000. They now get all the tax, about $11,800,000 a year.

Urban senators, led by Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids), Haskell L. Nichols, (R-Jackson), and Frank Heath (R-Bay City) agreed to the ceiling, but objected that it should not be less than $10,000,000.

Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) proposed earmarking whatever is recovered from the local units to pay off the $65,000,000 bond issue voted by the people last fall for mental and tuberculosis hospital construction.

It's perfectly natural for an American not to walk when he can ride," Church commented, "but we have got to develop men capable of fighting through the mountains."

"Now don't think," he cautioned, "that I think we have too many vehicles—which I don't—but we've got to learn to use them differently."

Church, a slight man with a slight stoop, then observed wryly:

"Almost any place we are likely to have to fight a war—Russia or anywhere else—we are going to have to contend with poor roads."

Navajo Indians Give Lesson To White Brothers

Over 75 Percent Out For Tribe Election

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz.—(P)—The Navajo Indians gave their white brothers an election lesson this week.

The Western reply to this—as a French spokesman termed it—curious argument came as another question: If the Russians will not trust the west to keep the Austrian treaty, why are they so eager for a German treaty? Wouldn't the Western Powers break that too?

Sixty Miles By Horse

Some travelled as far as 60 miles by wagon or horseback over rugged roads to vote. They returned Sam Akheah, stocky successor to the late Chee Dodge, as tribal chairman in a three-cornered contest.

The unofficial returns completed last night gave Akheah 5,909 votes to 4,849 for Scott Preston and 3,202 for James Beckett.

Akheah—the word means "The Boy"—carried his running mate John Claw in as vice-chairman. Also elected were five tribal judges and 74 members of the tribal council.

The campaign was similar to election campaigns everywhere, except that it was more wearing on the candidates travelling over the undeveloped reservation area. Also there was no mudsliding.

When his election was assured last night, Akheah heaved a sigh of relief and went to bed.

Vandenberg Rests

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(P)—After two successive restful nights Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) experienced a good day yesterday, his medical report said. The senator has long been ill and had a relapse Feb. 26.

Approve Delta School Survey Dr. Thurston Okays Area Study Plan

Dr. Lee M. Thurston, superintendent of the Michigan department of public instruction, has approved plans for an area study of Delta county's educational needs. Hagle Quarstrom, county school superintendent, was informed today.

Next step in the area study plan will be the appointment of a study committee, with membership representing all school districts of Delta and the districts of Inwood township in Schoolcraft county and Wells township in Marquette county. Children in the two latter districts attend schools in Delta county.

Supt. Quarstrom is directing letters to the school districts asking the appointment or recommendation of members to the County Area Study committee.

Will Be Beneficial

When the membership of the committee is known, an organization meeting will be called and a chairman and officers elected. Dr. William C. Harrison of Escanaba is chairman of the temporary committee planning for the permanent organization.

Dr. Thurston reported that he and his staff have reviewed the plans for the proposed Delta educational needs survey and heartily approve them.

"If the plans as outlined are carried through to completion, the youth and adults of Delta county should be greatly benefited," he believes.

Two-Year Study

The membership of the county-wide committee will comprise two to five representatives from each of the townships, three from Gladstone, five from Escanaba, and two from the parochial schools.

Purposes and objectives of the proposed study include:

An inventory of the educational needs and conditions of the county area; recommendations toward improvements, that will be submitted to the people for a vote. The committee is to complete its work and report within a two-year period.

Direct Inter-Peninsula One-Carrier Air Route Favored By U. P. Cities

Despite a warning that the Upper Peninsula might lose all certified air service, U. P. cities yesterday at a stormy three-hour air policy meeting in Iron Mountain reaffirmed their desire for direct single carrier air service with the Lower Peninsula of Michigan.

The warning came from two uninvited guests at the meeting called by the U. P. Air Transportation committee, of which Robert G. Murphy of Menominee is chairman.

The guests, present despite Murphy's letter to U. P. airlines clearly stating that no airline representatives were invited, were Francis L. Higgins, Milwaukee, president of Wisconsin Central Airlines, and Atty. Jerryld Scott, Wisconsin Central's chief legal counsel in Washington, D. C.

Support Committee

A vote of confidence was given the U. P. Air Transportation committee by the six cities represented at the meeting—Escanaba, Menominee, Marquette, Iron Mountain, Houghton and Hancock.

Inferentially, their action supported the U. P. committee in its policy of advocating direct one-carrier air service to the Lower Peninsula, and direct one-carrier air service to Wisconsin and Detroit.

Attending the Iron Mountain meeting from Escanaba yesterday were Atty. McGinn, F. W. Schmitt, chairman of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, Fred Sensiba, Claude Tobin, Dr. Verne Johnson, and Hugh Grow, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Red Cross Obtains Blood Donors For Hospital Patients

More than fifty blood donors for patients in St. Francis hospital were furnished during the past six weeks by Delta Chapter of American Red Cross, Mrs. N. H. Witham, executive secretary, said today.

The blood donors were secured at the request of physicians, by calling persons registered on the Red Cross blood type list, compiled during the blood plasma clinics held in Delta county during the past two years.

The Red Cross has a list of approximately 500 persons willing to donate blood free of charge. The card index gives the patients blood type and other information needed by doctors in obtaining blood for transfusions.

Civil Defense Meeting Slated

Chairmen Will Be Named Here Friday

A meeting of the Escanaba Civil Defense Advisory committee, headed by C. J. Driscoll of this city, is scheduled for 4:30 p. m. Friday at the city manager's office.

Chairman for civil defense subcommittees will be appointed and ways and means to inform the public will be considered. Problems outlined at the state-wide Civil Defense meeting held recently in Lansing also are to be discussed.

Don Iverson of the public school faculty has been appointed to represent John Lemmer on the advisory committee, and Elmer Swanson has been named to represent Juell Lee. Others serving on the defense unit are John Fawcett, Fred Courier, William Karas, Dr. Donald LeMire, Col. Loren Jenkins of the state guard, and Driscoll, who is chairman.

Among problems confronting Civil Defense officials here is a shortage of instructors for a mass first aid training program.

All persons who have had beginning and advanced first aid training or who previously held teaching certificates are advised to contact G. S. Leonard, deputy civil defense director. Currently the Civil Defense unit is unable to fill all requests for first aid instructors.

Michigan Legislature Should Support St. Lawrence Seaway

THE Michigan legislature's refusal to pass a simple resolution supporting the vital St. Lawrence seaway project has brought forth a bitter note of protest from Rep. John Dingell, of Detroit, who has pushed the seaway project continuously for 18 years.

Dingell has asked that the resolution be resubmitted, this time in amended form to provide for an appropriation of $100,000 to support the project.

In tabling the resolution, the state Senate's business committee took a cue from the railroad lobby that has been fighting the project. The committee certainly did not properly reflect popular opinion in Michigan on this issue. The residents of Michigan on the whole are familiar with the advantages that the seaway would provide for the people of Michigan, as well as the other Great Lakes states.

If our own legislature refuses to back the seaway project, it is understandable why so much difficulty has been encountered to get congressional authority for the project. The Michigan legislature, in effect, pulled the rug out from under the Michigan congressional delegation on the seaway issue. It is no wonder that Rep. Dingell has indignantly by the legislature's refusal to pass the resolution.

Legislatures of ocean port states might be expected to oppose the St. Lawrence seaway project as prejudicial to their selfish interests, but it is inconceivable that the Michigan legislature should fail to support the project.

RFC Has Wandered From Its Objectives

THE disclosures of ugly connivances by public officials to enable undeserving applicants to secure large RFC loans indicate how far astray the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has wandered from the purposes for which it was established.

The RFC was created in the depression years to provide a means of credit for business firms which were unable to get help from the banks. Many banks were in a precarious condition at the time. Unemployment was widespread and it was regarded as within the public interest to provide government assistance to industry. The RFC undoubtedly was a great help in overcoming the disastrous effects of the depression.

Then came World War II and a tremendous expansion of industry in the war production effort. RFC served well in that program, too.

Many of the activities of the RFC in the postwar period, however, are coated with a disagreeable odor. The government agency has loaned millions of dollars for business enterprises without any relationship to "public interest." Luxury hotels have been the beneficiary of some of these loans, made under conditions that reflect the influence of government officials in high places. In some instances the government loans were made simply to get private investors "off the hook."

The RFC was never designed to compete with private lending institutions and certainly it was not conceived that government financing would be used to promote business firms without relationship to public interest. A luxury hotel with a minimum $30 a day room rate hardly can qualify as a business firm deserving of government financing within the public interest.

BRASS! (Jackson Citizen-Patriot)

State Sen. Clarence A. Reid must be a man with a considerable quantity of that personality element which we used to call "brass."

With the state of Michigan faced with virtual disintegration of its highway system he introduced a bill which would increase the weight of the trucks plying our rugged roads. What is worse, the bill would strike out the jail sentences for habitual offenders of the weight limits.

The amazing thing is that the bill comes on the heels of an experiment carried on by Michigan and 10 other states and which showed that axle loads greater than 18,000 pounds cause great damage to road surfaces. Sen. Reid wants to up the weight restrictions from 18,000 to 24,500 pounds per tandem axle.

This man doesn't represent the people of the state of Michigan.

Yalta Decisions

Were Fateful Errors

NOTHING is easier than hindsight. It is the simplest matter to look back on great political and military decisions which turned sour and to point out just what should have been done by those who had the responsibility of deciding.

However, certain of these decisions stand out as mountainous examples of errors of judgment. In view of a great many people, the agreement which President Roosevelt and Premier Churchill concluded with Stalin at Yalta, early in 1945, falls into that sorry category. There are some who still defend Yalta — particularly in view of the world situation at that time, and the problems which confronted Roosevelt and Churchill in their dealings with the Soviet dictator. But it is now rather generally believed that the historians will give Yalta a high, perhaps preeminent place, when they come to chronicling the rise and spread of world communism.

William Henry Chamberlin, the distinguished historian and foreign correspondent, recently devoted one of his Wall Street Journal columns to Yalta and the fruits of that fateful conference. In the course of it he said, "It was an illusion that the totalitarian threat to America could be banished by helping the oldest and largest totalitarian state in the world to swell far beyond its legitimate ethnic boundaries. It was an illusion to believe that a powerful, heavily armed Soviet Union would play the role of cooperative do-gooder in a shattered and impoverished Eurasia. It was an illusion to believe that the balance of power could be destroyed in Europe and Asia without involving the gravest danger to America's own national security. It was an illusion to believe that Chiang Kai-shek was worth backing to the extent of involvement in a costly war against Japan and not worth lifting a finger for when he was threatened by the Kremlin-sponsored Chinese Communists. It was an illusion that these Communists were nice agrarian reformers, Jeffersonian democrats, who scarcely knew there was such a place as Moscow."

What motives can account for the enormous concessions the two great Western powers, then at their pinnacle of strength and prestige, made to Russia at Yalta? First of all, Mr. Roosevelt, especially, felt that it was vital to bring Russia into the Pacific war, almost regardless of the price demanded. Subsequent developments have shown that Russia contributed virtually nothing to this war and was not needed—but it must be said, in justice to the late president and his advisers, that he did not know that then, and that he had been told by the highest military authorities that an invasion of Japan might result in a million casualties. Second, we were then allies of Russia and, on the surface at least, we were all friends and comrades looking forward to a long era of peace and prosperity. Third, there was Mr. Roosevelt's belief that he could handle Stalin in any future world development. But the president was mortal, and had not long to live.

The extent to which illusion reigned at Yalta is also found in the fact that, with relatively few exceptions, the decisions made there found a strong favorable reaction in public opinion in the United States and in Britain, and the Western participants came home as conquering heroes. And here, to a large extent, is why Yalta has, in the view of thoughtful men, a strong bearing on the events of today. We were out-generated—our statesmanship failed. The short-view took precedence over the long-view. We won a war and lost the peace. The big thing now, these thoughtful men believe, is that the unhappy example of Yalta not be forgotten, and that the lessons we have learned from it help guide our statesmanship in the future.

The amazing thing is that the bill comes on the heels of an experiment carried on by Michigan and 10 other states and which showed that axle loads greater than 18,000 pounds cause great damage to road surfaces. Sen. Reid wants to up the weight restrictions from 18,000 to 24,500 pounds per tandem axle.

Now let's talk about the word premier. First of all, the word is French, in which language it is pronounced prum-YAY. It means "the first in time, rank, or quality; the first minister of state." In French premier is masculine. The feminine form is premiere, pronounced: prum-YEHR.

Now premier entered English a long time ago, and the British pronunciation, as recorded by the Oxford English Dictionary, became PREM-yer, or PREEM-yer.

But in Standard American speech the prevailing pronunciation in all levels of speech was and still is pri-MEER. Therefore, pri-MEER is the correct American pronunciation. However, your dictionary may not even list pri-MEER. With typical and scholarly reluctance to report established American pronunciations, your dictionary will doubtless prefer the British PREM-yer or PREEM-yer.

Now this is another example of dictionary inertia, and a far too heavy reliance on British usage. I hope to live to see the day when American dictionaries will become frankly and honestly American, instead of being dim carbon copies of the British Oxford in matters of pronunciation. I'd like to see our dictionaries whistle "Yankee Doodle," instead of opening each page with a reverent "God Save the King."

Perpetual Motion

By Gordon Martin

It's a fact that we've invented many marvelous machines, like the one that brings us pictures on our television screens. But in spite of all our wonders, we have made no gadget yet, that's perpetual in motion, much to science's regret. So perhaps we'd better study how we use the human tongue, for we've surely kept it going since the world was very young.

Now there's folks who like to listen to another person talk, but the most of us prefer to hear our own unending squawk. From the time we rise to go to work until we say goodnight, we're a-gabbin' and a-clackin' till it's sure enough a fright. And the louder we will speak our piece, the louder we must screech, for we're each con-

BY DREW PEARSON

PEC, YUGOSLAVIA—For most of one day I have driven along what is sometimes called "the little iron curtain"—the border where Yugoslavia and Albania meet, for Yugoslavia enjoys the unenviable distinction of being squeezed between two sections of the iron curtain with Bulgaria and Hungary on one side and Albania on the other.

How tiny, primitive Albania—chiefly a Mohammedan country—happened to fall for Russian communism has always been a mystery to me. I lived on the Albanian border for two years after the first World War, once crossed it on horseback, and its people at that time were rugged individualists who hated all governments, including their own, with the passion of Pennsylvania's high-tariff Joe Grundy. Perhaps the explanation is that Albania is a nation of extreme poverty where the people have nothing to lose by trying new experiments plus the fact that any nation torn by a never-ending series of wars is an easy mark for Communism.

At any rate, the border between Russified Albania and anti-Russian Yugoslavia now is studded with armed guards, and strangers are not permitted within 20 kilometers (about 12½ miles).

I managed to remember enough of the local language to talk my way past the first guard in the restricted zone and thereafter managed to talk my way past guards who stopped our jeep every half hour until we had passed through the old Turkish Albanian city of Prizerend, the border town of Jakovitz, and Decenay monastery—one of the oldest in Serbia, but it now bristles with armament. The iron curtain here is not of barbed wire as it is around most satellite countries but consists of a steep mountain range, its base studed with troops.

DOUBLE-CROSSING RUSSIANS

My purpose in visiting this isolated, desolate part of the Balkans was partly sentimental, partly to see whether the United States is getting credit for its good program, partly to gauge Yugoslav sentiment toward Russia and the United States in an area far from the official blarney handed out by the diplomats in Belgrade.

Regarding the food program, the United States has given the Yugoslav government $60,000,000 worth of flour with the understanding that they sell it through their regular ration system but making it clear that the flour comes from us. Its distribution was organized under Richard Allen of Carmel, Calif., a former Hoover food man who has also arranged for American inspectors to travel through the country. I traveled part of the time with one of these inspectors—efficient George Trett—as he interviewed local officials and local farmers and it appears the United States is getting credit.

Regarding Yugoslav feeling toward Russia, it seems similar to that of the bride who has been jilted at the church and then watched her fiancé marry another man. Yugoslav papers are filled with bitter denunciations of Russia, reminding the people that anyone who deals with Russia always gets double-crossed and even playing up the Russian double-cross history back to 1700 as if it were hot first-page news today.

Later, I heard Marshal Pijade, considered the father of Yugoslav communism, address 50,000 people in one of the bitterest attacks I have ever heard against Russia. Pijade was jailed for 14 years by King Alexander, at which time he taught Marxism to other Yugoslav leaders but now Moscow calls him "the hideous hunchback of Belgrade."

When I heard him he quoted Thomas Dewey, Walter Lippmann and Ernest Bevin as proof that Russia is a brutal nation and that the United States and England are vigorously supporting Yugoslavia.

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

Q—I nominate for your Pronunciation clinic the word "premier." Why do we hear so many different pronunciations for it on the radio?—Mrs. S. P. C.

A—I don't have the answer to that question, except to say that "the radio" is not at fault—it's the people who talk on the radio that mispronounce the words. We hear great masses of people on the air in these days, and most are not trained speakers. Generally speaking, however, the professional broadcasters are pretty accurate in their pronunciations.

Now let's talk about the word premier. First of all, the word is French, in which language it is pronounced prum-YAY. It means "the first in time, rank, or quality; the first minister of state." In French premier is masculine. The feminine form is premiere, pronounced: prum-YEHR.

Shabby Training Camps Get Growing Pains As U. S. Army Expands Rapidly

TRAINING CAMP QUIZ: Make-believe tank serves as the object lesson in this "tank pit," where Lt. Arthur J. O'Donnell of Waterbury, Conn., questions Pvt. Robert W. Golder, Chester, Pa., about effectiveness of trap. Both are with the 43rd Division. Photo was made at Camp Pickett, Va., by NEA-Acme staff photographer Stanley Tretick, who covered real tank action on the Korean front.

plumbers are at work fixing up the buildings, but the budget doesn't include painting. Some of the men offered to buy their own paint and do the job themselves, but they were turned down on the grounds it would take too much time away from training.

Fortunately, variations of the Camp Pickett story are unfolding only about a dozen places around the U. S. All-out mobilization right now would find the Pickett story multiplied a couple of hundred times around the nation.

Somehow supply has never quite caught up with demand since Pickett was reopened six months ago. The New England 43rd National Guard division arrived before the dilapidated barracks had been nailed back together. Doors hung on one hinge. Gaping holes in the roofs let in the rain. Plumbing fixtures were cracked and leaking. Kitchen stoves didn't work.

Today a minimum of barracks rehabilitation has been completed at a cost of $3½ million. It only rains in when it's windy. Doors won't close very tight but they hang on two hinges. A good man with a mop can stay ahead of the leaky plumbing. Exploding furnaces have cleaned out most of the clogged-up chimneys.

Pickett was first opened as a reception center in 1940 and has since expanded eight times to its present 43,000 acres of low, rolling sand hills which barely nourish the foliage of weeds and scrub pine.

Each expansion can be traced by the condition of the single coat of paint put on when the buildings were finished. The original 283 buildings now are practically bare wood with black, weatherbeaten siding. The cream paint on the 55 buildings finished in 1944 is peeling off rapidly.

About 200 carpenters and plumber are at work fixing up the buildings, but the budget doesn't include painting. Some of the men offered to buy their own paint and do the job themselves, but they were turned down on the grounds it would take too much time away from training.

A long-distance call home, even in an emergency, means a three or four hour wait for circuits.

Transportation out of Blackstone for the lucky men with weekend passes is jammed and slow, and there is virtually nothing to do in Blackstone except go shopping. Even things to buy are scarce and expensive, except for Army gear in the surplus stores.

Rooms for wives of officers brave enough to come to Blackstone go for $60 to $100 a month, depending on the rank of the officer. That's for a small, bare room with a bath on another floor. Apartment and house rentals put Park Avenue landlords to shame.

Col. Babcock has set up committees on housing and recreation with people from Blackstone and other communities. It is helping some, but the men are still being gaged.

When Babcock arrived at the camp last year, it had been opened and closed three times between 1947 and its latest rebirth in August. The only things in good shape were the concrete and blacktop roads. It took four weeks to make the railroad siding usable.

But the men at Pickett, with nothing to do off the post, find they have one advantage over World War II days. There's a TV station in nearby Richmond, and a lot of TV sets in the barracks. As one GI says:

"We've got it soft compared to the boys in the last war. We've got Faye Emerson."

Europe is safe. The war is going to be fought in Asia and Stalin, being a shrewd strategist, will not lightly open a second front in Europe.—Dr. Hu Shih, former Chinese Ambassador to U. S.

There was no reason to get excited. It was perfectly simple. The men filled out their forms wrong. The officer didn't bother to check them and the allotments weren't paid by St. Louis (the Army's finance center)."

Now this is another example of dictionary inertia, and a far too heavy reliance on British usage. I hope to live to see the day when American dictionaries will become frankly and honestly American, instead of being dim carbon copies of the British Oxford in matters of pronunciation. Grand Marais Boat Breaks Channel To Fishing Waters

GRAND MARAIS—The Delos H. Smith II, named by Albert Grasser, sr., and Dennis Manila, both of Grand Marais, succeeded in breaking a channel across the bay to open water Sunday, March 4, the earliest date on record in this community.

The all-steel boat, operated by the Grasser Fish Co., bucked ice from 18 to 30 inches thick in its effort to reach open water.

The fishing boat with its crew, headed by Alex MacDonald, left the harbor Monday to set nets in Lake Superior, the earliest opening of commercial fishing on record.

Other commercial fishermen will be heading out into lake waters soon.

Grede Buys Foundry In Reedsburg, Wis.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—Purchase of the assets of the Reedsburg Foundry company at Reedsburg, Wis., was announced this week by William J. Grede, president of Grede Foundries, Inc. Also included in the transaction was the purchase of the foundry building at Reedsburg. The plant has been closed since 1948.

It is planned to re-open the foundry for the production of gray iron castings as soon as materials can be obtained. Approximately 75 men will be employed.

In addition to two steel foundries in Milwaukee, Grede Foundries, Inc., operates iron furnaces in Wauwatosa and Waukesha, Wisconsin, and Iron Mountain.

The new foundry, when in full operation, will increase Grede's annual productive capacity to 40,000 tons.

Snow Removal Fund Is In Red

$3,000 Deficit For This Winter

The city's snow removal budget is already overdrawn about $3,000 for the winter season, City Manager A. V. Aronson reported this morning. Any additional snowfall will mean a proportionate increase in the budget deficit.

The city allocated $9,578 for snow removal this winter in the annual budget. At the end of January $9,269 was spent and although figures for February and March are not yet compiled, the cost of snow removal since January is estimated at approximately $3,000.

The snow removal expenditure was $1,158.94 in November, $4,146.66 in December and $3,645 in January. Other small expenditures were made earlier for repairs to plows and maintenance of equipment, charged against the snow removal department.

Doctor's Wife Picked For Fourth Marriage By Elliott Roosevelt

MIAMI, Fla.—(P)—The Florida winter colony is buzzing with reports that Elliott Roosevelt plans to marry Mrs. Minnewa Ross. It would be the fourth wedding for each.

The Miami Herald said today the plans appear to hinge on when Mrs. Ross' obtains a divorce from Dr. Rex L. Ross, physician of Santa Monica, Calif.

Mrs. Ross' attorney in New York was quoted as saying she had not yet filed for divorce but the Herald story said Mrs. Rex L. Ross, sr., who is spending the winter with her daughter-in-law, reported attorneys had filed for a Florida divorce.

Records failed to reveal any suit of that nature at the Dade county courthouse.

Roosevelt has been in this area for some time and is reported interested in buying property at Marathon, in the Florida Keys. The younger Mrs. Ross came to Miami last December after her husband charged in a California divorce suit that his wife and young son, Rexie L. Ross, 11, were "touring the country with one Elliott Roosevelt."

Roosevelt termed the accusation "perfectly ridiculous."

Gov. Williams Sees Daughter Starring As School Elephant

LANSING—(P)—Governor William Williams was invited Wednesday to attend an elementary school entertainment on the promise that his daughter, Nancy, would be one of the featured performers.

Williams went and now he's wondering if it was all a deep, dark Republican plot.

Nancy made her appearance on schedule with a starring role in a circus put on by a group of second graders. But her role was that of an elephant—historic symbol of the Republican party.

Army Recalls 12,650 Reserve Lieutenants, Captains And WACs

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Army is ordering to active duty 12,650 reserve lieutenants and captains, including some 150 Women's Army Corps (WAC) officers.

The recall of company grade officers was announced yesterday. The Army said the order will affect 3,444 captains and 9,206 second and first lieutenants. They will report for active duty between May 23 and June 29. All will be given at least 30 days after notification before reporting.

The announcement said National Guard and inactive reservists will not be called, but may volunteer.

Few See Eclipse Of Sun Wednesday

MIAMI, Fla.—(P)—The sun was in partial eclipse late yesterday, but in Florida, where visibility was best, few persons seemed to take notice.

The eclipse was visible as far north as New England and West to Ohio and Missouri except where clouds interfered.

About 20 per cent of the sun was obscured in Florida when the moon passed between it and the earth, from 3:38 p.m. (EST) to sunset at 6:20 p.m. Farther north the degree of eclipse lessened. Clouds obscured the view in some northern areas.

Underworld Figure Nabbed For Michigan

WARREN, Ohio—(P)—Acting on Michigan's request, police yesterday arrested Frank Cammarata for extradition as a parole violator.

A preliminary hearing was scheduled for today, Gov. Frank J. Lausche already has ordered extradition.

Cammarata, described by Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams as an "important" figure in the underworld, allegedly violated parole by returning illegally to the U.S. after deportation.

He was deported to Italy after a Michigan robbery sentence was commuted in 1936.

River Crossing Surprises Reds; Allies Advance

Han river in assault boats and planted three bridgeheads east of Red-held Seoul.

The crossing ranged from 12 to 15 miles east of Seoul, near the point where the Pukhan river from the north flows into the Han river.

Engineers who bridged the Han came under Red mortar fire but allied artillery gave them cover. When the job was done, infantrymen surged across the river and drove two to three miles northward in pursuit of fleeing Reds.

The Reds attempted no counterattack during the night. On Thursday morning the 25th Division troops jumped off again to expand their triple bridgehead.

Enemy Building Up

While the assault crossings were under way, South Korean First Division troops made a fake crossing maneuver northwest of Seoul.

Apparently expecting the main allied crossing there, the Reds fought back with tank fire from the north bank of the Han. The diversion kept the Red tanks busy in that sector while the 25th Division crossed the river east of Seoul.

Seven American divisions were in the line on the allied drive to the north—the 25th, 24th, Seventh, First Cavalry, Third, Second and the First Marines.

In addition, British, Turkish, Greek, French, Australian, South Korean and New Zealand troops drove forward in the new push.

The shock of the Allied blow numbed the Reds on the western front and netted the Eighth army its biggest one-day prisoner bag in a long while—260. Of the total, 213 were captured in the 25th division's across-the-Han assault.

Although the Allied attack surprised and stunned the Reds, they continued to build up for an expected countersmash. Air observers Wednesday night spotted more than 900 Red vehicles moving through North Korea toward battle lines throughout North Korea. U.S. Fifth Air Force pilots claimed they destroyed 42.

Day and night fighter planes teamed up to destroy an ammunition train 60 miles northwest of Seoul.

Boise Boy, 7, Stuck In $3,750 Lawsuit

BOISE, Idaho—(P)—Seven-year-old James Hamersley got stuck for a $3,750 damage suit verdict yesterday in district court.

It was all because two years ago in April he hitched his dog to his wagon.

Mrs. Susan Jackman said a wheel of the wagon struck her on the right leg, tripping her.

She asked $32,000 damages because she said she was hospitalized for more than a year. However, the jury only allowed her $8,750.

Robert L. Hamersley, the boy's father, of course, will have to pay, not James.

But the father was dismissed as a co-defendant in the suit, and young James had to take the rap alone.

Bigest Budget In History Set Up For Russians

MOSCOW—(P)—The Soviet Union's biggest budget in history, presented to parliament last night, calls for 21.3 per cent of the government's expected income in 1951 to be spent on arms. Last year's defense outlay was 18.5 per cent of the total budget.

Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev budgeted defense items at 96,376,000,000 rubles. Russia values her ruble at 25 cents. At that rate, the defense expenditure is being stepped up to $24,094,000,000, or $4,244,000,000 more than last year.

(Dollar-ruble comparisons are difficult because of Russia's vastly different economic standards. They must take into account, also, the wide use of forced labor, lower living standards, cheaper materials and the lack of actual exchange between the ruble and the dollar.)

(President Truman has asked the U.S. Congress to approve a budget of $71,594,000,000, of which $41,421,000,000 is for defense and $7,461,000,000 is earmarked for arms aid to friendly nations.)

Pinball And Jukebox Licenses Debated By Lansing Lawsmiths

LANSING—(P)—The House of representatives was reported calmed to die in the electric chair tonight as the final payoff of their murder-for-profit partnership.

But lawyers continued last-minute efforts to save the condemned "lonely hearts" slayers—200-pound Mrs. Martha Beck and Raymond Fernandez, the balding Romeo.

The House Taxation Committee released a measure slapping a $200 a year license fee on each pinball machine and a $100 a year fee on each juke box.

The only exemptions would be devices in churches, schools, community centers and those which take less than five cents to operate.

Everyone Seems To Be Sick Now

Kefauver Inquiry Making Some III

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK — The bulletin comes from Mexico that the ambassador is feeling pretty poorly, what with the bronchitis and all, and hence won't be able to fly up to testify before the Senate crime commission, which convenes here next week.

Our sympathies are all with Mr. O'Dwyer. Everybody has been feeling lousy, lately, especially people with testifying to do. Heart flutters are rampant in the land, as Senator Kefauver barnstorms, and the wracking cough is endemic, as to the rosy nose and seeping eyeball. I suppose the national resistance is lowered, due to mental depression, taxes, and general suspicion, making us all victims of one horrid malady or another.

Doctor Before Lawyer

It is just terrible that Mr. O'Dwyer can't make it, to answer a few questions about corruption under his regime, because people are generally unsympathetic to the ills of others, and suspicious, too, since the wave of heart murmur has ravaged the ranks of Kefauver committee testifiers. It is getting so people summon the sawbones before they call for the mouthpiece.

In common humanity there is no real way of saying that a person ain't sick; no physical check

Policeman Back In The Pink Again — Says He's The "Kilroy of Old"

HADACOL Relieves Lack of Energy When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron

It takes a good man, a man that's really up and at 'em, to help keep an eye on one of the world's largest office buildings. So when Jimmy Kilroy, 1153 Belden Ave., Chicago, Ill., found himself below par... in a sluggish rundown condition... he turned to today's great HADACOL. He'd heard how this wonderful formula corrected the real cause of such troubles when due to a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. As a result, he's back in shape again, loaded with energy and enthusiasm.

Here's what Mr. Kilroy has to say. "A few lines to tell you the great things your HADACOL has done for me. As a prize fighter and now as policeman assigned to one of the world's largest office buildings, I have always had to be in the best of shape. A month ago I found I was in a rundown condition, lacking energy, always tired and sluggish. And a young man one day said at one time he was the same. Advised me to buy a bottle of HADACOL, which I did. After two bottles, started feeling like myself and from there on I got new energy. Have been working in the gym 1 hour daily and everyone tells me how great I look and act. It really is a great product and I will always keep taking it. I feel like the Kilroy of old."

Fans Boo Charles Victory; Injury Delays Louis Fight

DETROIT — (P)—An injured left ear today sidelined Ezzard Charles for two months, dashing Joe Louis' hopes for a crack at the heavyweight champion in April.

The 29-year old titleholder's ear was puffed up in his successful 15-round defense against 37-year-old Jersey Joe Walcott last night. His physician ordered Ezzard to stay out of action for at least two months.

Charles, who was almost topped from his throne in the fourth round by a crashing right to the jaw, had the swelling drained from the ear at hospital early this morning.

Louis Disappointed

Co-Manager Tom Tanpas said "the champ is okay but he'll have to give the ear a chance to heal before he does anything else. However Charles is willing to meet anybody the International Boxing Club offers. And that includes Louis, as soon as Ez is ready."

Louis, who received a thunderous ovation from the 13,852 fans ($75,502 gross gate) at Olympia stadium, left shortly after the unanimous decision was announced. He didn't receive the disappointing news until today.

It came as a great shock to the Brown Bomber. Louis has had four fights, has trimmed down to 207 pounds, and he feels he is ready right now. He doesn't want to waste any time. His 37th birthday comes up this May.

Walcott's 37 years didn't seem to hang heavy on him in several spots last night, notably in the fourth and 15th rounds when the 5 to 1 underdog had Charles in trouble.

Boo Decision

Joe had the highly vocal crowd rooting for him all the way, excepting for the seventh round. He hit Charles two hard rights after the bell and the crowd let loose with a barrage of jeers.

The fans gave out with some lusty boos in the eighth round when the fight slowed to a walk, but they saved the Bronx specials for the officials when the verdict was rendered.

Walcott and Manager Felix Bocchicchio screamed "we wuz robbed" in several thousand words. The fans gave the Camden, N. J., veteran a terrific hand and booted the mention of Charles' name.

But 13 writers, who sat on all four sides of the ring, all scored for Charles.

Under Michigan's point system whereby 10 points is divided between the two fighters in each round by 5-5, 6-4, and 7-3, the officials had the scores for Charles this way (total points wins):

Referee Clarence Rosen, 80-70 (rounds 9-5 one even); Judge Joe Lenahan, 83-67 (rounds 9-2-4); Judge Jack Asper 84-66 (rounds 11-3-1).

One More Punch

There wouldn't have been any need for score cards if old Joe had been able to get in one extra vital punch when he had Ezzard in difficulty in the fourth.

A right to the chin staggered the champion and one more might have sent him to the floor for keeps. But the champ clung to Walcott for sixty long seconds and the challenger couldn't shake him off. By the end of the round, Charles had recovered and he

Cage Game Winds Up 'Pan-Am' Tonight

BUENOS AIRES — (P)—On the competitive side, the first Pan American games end tonight with the United States took both men's 800-meter relay and women's 300-meter relay.

Argentina won the water polo title and swept all eight boxing finals. Tiger Nylas of the United States took the individual saber title in fencing.

State Diamond Practice Opens

EAST LANSING — (P)—Michigan State baseball coach John Kobs is getting an assist from the weather man in his preparations for the 1951 season.

Kobs already has given his squad two outdoor workouts—the earliest they have been able to get outdoors in years, he said.

A couple of regulars looked good in the early batting practice. Left Fielder Vince Magi of Detroit hit a triple in an inter-squad game and Bob Colek, football quarterback out for catcher, also slumped a three bagger.

Best looking new pitching prospects in the first few days appeared to be Bob Dangl of Grand Rapids and Chuck Gorman of Lansing.

Three lettermen from last year, all now signed to pro clubs, showed up for the workouts and helped Kobs handle the squad.

In the 15th, Walcott, out for a desperate, last gasp knockout, belted Charles with a couple of corkers. Most of the steam had gone from his blows by then, however.

Jersey Joe Still Champ To His Kids

CAMDEN, N. J.—(P)—Jersey Joe Walcott lost his chance to lift the heavyweight boxing crown from Ezzard Charles last night in the eyes of his six children "he's still our champ."

Alva, 15, made the remark after Jersey Joe dropped a 15-round decision to Charles in Detroit.

"I thought he should have had at least a draw," declared Arnold, 17, only one of the children to see the fight at home on the television. The children appeared a little downcast over their dad's failure but Jersey Joe's wife cheered them up with:

"Let's not take this too hard. We may do this again."

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

It will be interesting to see how the crowd stacks up this weekend at the class E regional basketball tournament at the junior high school.

Nahma, of course, can be expected to bring in a good representation of fans Friday night when they meet Alpha, defending champion. And Alpha, too, will have a large delegation.

Michigan and Marenisco, however, are a long ways away from Escanaba and may not bring too many along.

But fans can be assured of some fine basketball, even though the teams come from small schools. For instance, Alpha has twice defeated Vulcan, which won the class D district title last week. And Nahma has beaten several class D schools and Bark River-Harris, a class C school. When these two teams meet at 9 o'clock Friday night, fans will see some fine basketball. Naturally, we hope Nahma wins. All Delta county fans will be rooting for them.

Here's a warning to Houghton high school cagers: Don't make too many fouls against St. Joseph Friday night. It might cost you the game... the first five players on the St. Joseph team this year have made 211 free throws... the whole team has made 250... out of 12 players, 11 of them are shooting 50 per cent or more on free throws... in addition to free throws, the boys occasionally score one from the field, too!... not many teams in the Upper Peninsula have four players with more than 165 points... or with one like Pete Kuches who has 297 points.

Eddie Olson, Brother of Marc and Ted, Is Cards Practice Pitcher

CLEVELAND—When Eddie Olson came to the Arena in former seasons as member of the St. Louis Flyers, a raucous voice at the west end of the rink would often greet him with:

"Hey—Bob Hope!"

Since being traded to the Barons last month, Olson doesn't hear the heckler any more. Eddie is among friends now.

But the fact remains that a profile view of Olson's physiognomy reveals a startling likeness to that of the famed screen and radio comedian and Eddie still hears himself likened to Hope in catcalls from customers in hostile ranks around the American Hockey League.

Nose Just Natural

Olson avers that his nose didn't get that way from ever having been busted. "It's just that way naturally," he says.

Eddie takes it all good-naturedly, however, and from his ready smile a stranger would hardly guess that he's one of the more rough-and-rugged members of the Cleveland hockey club.

He's also one of the American Hockey League's most versatile players.

Olson usually starts at a wing position, but if Coach Bun Cook needs him for a defense job, he can move back there, too and do a good chore.

Two years ago, when St. Louis won the western division championship, Olson played every position on the team except goal at one time or another during the season.

Pitches for Cards

With his 186 pounds stacked on a broad-shouldered 5-foot, 10-inch frame, Olson has year-round jobs in sports. When the hockey season ends, he hopes to rejoin the St. Louis Cardinals as batting practice pitcher until the next hockey season begins.

Olson was pitching in a semi-pro league around St. Louis when the Cardinals offered him the batting practice job. He's a right-hander and has the strong "rubber arm" that's need for such a job.

Musial Wants Curves

"Funny thing," he recalls, "was

Bowery Pitching Well

"Our pitching is not bad. Virgil Trucks looks okay again. Hal Newhouse should win 20. Old Diz (Paul Trout) still has a lot left in him and I always have claimed that Hutchinson was one of the toughest in the game."

"Gray can win and I've got a feeling that Hank Bowery is going to surprise a lot of people. He has really been putting stuff on that ball down here."

Manager Rolfe indicated he was well pleased with the hitting power displaying by his Tigers in their first intra-squad game yesterday.

Does Ugly Fat Hide YOUR SLENDER FIGURE

If ugly fat hides your slender figure and if you feel that you have to be fat because it runs in the family you will be interested in the success experienced by folks like Etta Mae Martin.

"I am sixty years old and had always thought that heredity caused my overweight and for the last three years, before taking Rennel Concentrate, I was run down, heavy on my feet and couldn't even do my ordinary housework," writes Mrs. Martin.

"Then, good luck! I heard about Rennel Concentrate and started taking it. In three months I lost 40 pounds. Imagine what a relief it was to lose 40 pounds of unwanted weight. Now besides doing all my housework, two family washes and ironings and taking care of a grandchild, all in one week, I still find time for an evening or two out visiting friends. I highly recommend Rennel Concentrate because it has certainly done wonders for me."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain 4 ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate at your druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two table-spoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. It's up to you to do your meal planning. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple easy way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, just return it for your money back. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. And insist on Rennel.
